

What is PALS?

Partnering in Assisted Living Symposium (PALS) will bring together assisted living providers, partners, and advocates from across Wisconsin to advance quality through collaboration and shared learning. Participants will engage in a day focused on enhancing quality of care and quality of life in assisted living communities.

Who should attend PALS?

Register today for this free, virtual event sponsored by WCCEAL. Registration is open to all staff working in Wisconsin Assisted Living Communities (ALCs) who are interested in learning more about and improving the quality of life for their residents. Join us whether your ALC is already participating in WCCEAL or not, it's a great opportunity to network virtually and learn more. It is also open to advocates, state of Wisconsin, provider associations, researchers, and industry working with assisted living, as well as national assisted living partners.
